

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

MASON CITY, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Dan Steck says he is for Al because he wants to see a smile in the White House again. But I'm for Al so I can see a smile in the farm house again. ONLY A FARMER'S DAUGHTER—R. H. L. in the Chicago Tribune.

Noble Johnson, Republican congressman and candidate for re-election held a big Democratic rally at Cloverdale Monday night according to aerograms, which filtered in to "Say" this morning. Accompanied by Everett McClure, a former Cloverdale resident, Milton Brown, County Chair man, A. F. Chenoweth and a drum corps from Greencastle, the speaker arrived in Cloverdale early in the evening, only to learn that no arrangements had been made for a hall in which to speak. So it was decided that an open air meeting would be held. The drum corps was instructed to parade through the town and lead the crowd to the selected lawn. Well, the drum corps drummed all right but it drummed up a big crowd of Al Smith enthusiasts who fell in behind the drummers and gave a stirring demonstration for Smith. When the audience for the speaking reached the lawn it was a big enthusiastic cheering Al Smith crowd. So enthusiastic and cheering, it is said, that Mr. Johnson decided that it was no place for a Republican congressman to speak and so the speech making was called off.

The St. Louis Cardinals, back against the wall, are battling this afternoon in an effort to win at least one of the World's Series games. With three games already tucked away in their win basket the New York Yankees are confident of making the big series a closed book by winning the fourth straight this afternoon.

The new city marshall had an auspicious introduction to Greencastle chief of police duties. The safe blowers who wrecked a south Greencastle meat market saw evidently wanted to start off the new officer with a big blow up.

This October weather certainly is "intoxicating". And it has no Volstead limitations.

Will someone please take the sidewalks away from around the court house.

The new Second Ward school building is now operating at full capacity. And it sure is a building of which the city should be proud. In fact it is well worth the efforts taken to secure it.

Two big "rocks" in the middle of the new east Washington street pavement at the corner of Locust street, have been annoying the motorists for several days and should be removed by the city as soon as possible. The "rock" are easily noticeable to motorists.

Next Saturday is Old Gold day at DePauw. Here is hoping that the weather will behave itself.

Residents of Indiana spent $2,700,000 yearly for chewing gum. If all the sticks consumed during a year's time were laid end to end they would make a solid strip of gum more than 12,784 miles long. Of these amounts Greencastle residents spend $3,600 and chew 17 miles of the product. In other words, every man, woman and child in this city, chews approximately ninety cents' worth of gum every twelve months.

He came sneaking into my office this morning, carried in his hand a peace offering, which he said consisted of one half dozen "Table legs, laid today." "Thanks, awfully," says I to Otis Matthews following the presentation of the gift. "But I am not in need of any table legs." "I did not say 'table legs,'" said Matthews. "I said 'table legs.'" "Oh, yes, I know now you mean hen's eggs." "No, not hen's eggs," he said "pullet eggs." And then the whole truth dawned on him. A few weeks ago I was down at his farm near Putnamville and he showed me some little white leghorn pullets, which he said would be laying by early October. And I laughed at him. So this morning he brought in a sack full of proof. But really when he told me they were "Table eggs, laid today," I thought he said "Table legs, laid today." Now really, I did.

CORNERSTONE OF NEW CHURCH WILL BE LAID

BISHOP EDGAR BLAKE OF INDIANAPOLIS AREA WILL BE HERE FOR CEREMONIES SATURDAY

PART OLD GOLD DAY PROGRAM Stake for Imposing Structure Driven a Year Ago—Dr. Taylor Seeks Interesting Contents for Stone

The Cornerstone of the new Methodist Church will be laid with fitting ceremonies at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday of this week. Just one year ago, on Old Gold Day, the stake was driven on the site where the new church would be erected. It is most appropriate that on this Old Gold Day progress of the enterprise shall be marked by the laying of the cornerstone.

Bishop Edgar Blake, the newly assigned bishop of the Indianapolis Area, has cancelled a Chicago engagement in order that he might be here for this important ceremony. It is probable that two or three other Bishops whose interest in DePauw brings them here for the Old Gold Day ceremonies and the inauguration of Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, may participate in the service.

Dr. C. Howard Taylor is now engaged in getting together the interesting things which will make up the contents of the copper box which will go into the stone. He will welcome any item of interest concerning early Methodism in this city which may be incorporated in the brief story of the movement which has culminated in the building of this church. Any friends of the enterprise who have in their possession some printed matter or relic of local Methodism which they would be glad to preserve in this way, are invited to bring it to the parsonage not later than Friday afternoon.

Work on the new church structure has gone forward steadily and will now be pushed even more rapidly. It is hoped that the building may be enclosed by the first of the year. At the session of the North West Indiana Conference just closed, Rev. E. W. Strecker was appointed as Field agent of this enterprise and will take up his work at once.

RILEY PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Greencastle High School faculty and student body held a chapel Tuesday morning in observance of the birthday anniversary of James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier Poet. America, sung by the student body.
Reading, "That's the Way You Look," by Margaret Ann Inman.
Reading, "Our Hired Girl," by Martha Ellen Rector.
Song "There Little Girl, Don't Cry" by Mary Louise Throop.
Reading "The Train Miser" by Mr. Bishop.

The inauguration will take place at 10:30 a. m., and at 3 p. m., Lucy Rowland Rector Hall, the new $250,000 dormitory for DePauw, will be dedicated.

The inauguration and dedication will be an educational event of national interest and representatives from scores of leading universities and colleges from all parts of the United States will be in attendance.

The academic procession in which all marching pedagogues will wear academic costumes will precede the inauguration ceremonies.

Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West, who is also president of the board of trustees and visitors will preside at the inauguration exercises. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes will make the charge to the new president.

After that President Oxnam will deliver his inaugural address on "Education and the New Society."

A banquet for Indiana newspapermen has been scheduled for 6 p. m. October 12 by L. E. Mitchell, director of DePauw publicity.

A reception for Dr. and Mrs. Oxnam in Lucy Rowland Hall at 8 o'clock Friday night will end the day's program. The reception is given by Trustees and visitors for guests, faculty, alumni, students and citizens of Greencastle.

BOSS IS SPEAKER AT DEPAUW CHAPEL

Charles F. Boss Jr., director of religious education of the Methodist Church, spoke to DePauw University students in chapel Tuesday. He discussed the question, "Is it desirable to apply the scientific methods of research and experiment to the field of religion?"

After citing examples of the marvelous things made possible by research in chemistry and bacteriology, Mr. Boss told of a conference in Portland, Oregon, where a group of ministers considered this problem. The result of the conference was expressed by one man, who said: "I never before realized that the work of a minister could be scientific and constructive."

Mr. Boss spoke Tuesday afternoon in Room 13, East College, to students interested in religious education.

SMITH WILL LEAVE N. Y. ON WEDNESDAY

BIG DECISION TO BE MADE FOUR WEEKS FROM TODAY—INVASION OF SOUTH STARTED BY NOMINEE

LOUISVILLE SPEECH SATURDAY Is Making Personal Appearance in Dixie to Satisfy Clamorings Of Followers

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Four weeks from today the greatest electoral army the country ever saw will march to the polls to make the big decision.

With these four active weeks ahead of him and much travelling and speaking still to do Governor Alfred E. Smith sets out from Albany today on the second of his major campaign tours.

He has made his bid for the West. This time he faces south—into Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, territory that Democratic presidential candidates of other years have not considered it necessary to bother about. In so doing he has yielded some what to the importunities of Democratic sectional leaders who have been pouring their fears and their doubts into the ears of the party strategists in national headquarters in New York.

They have been clamoring for speeches from the Democratic standard bearer in the border states and even in the solid south. On this, however the Governor has been adamant. He will make a personal appearance in Dixie to satisfy the demands of the local leaders, but his only speech of the week has been reserved for Louisville, Ky., next Saturday night.

There, on the border line between north and South, and in a state that is known for the closeness and turbulence of its political battles, Governor Smith will speak his tariff views on Saturday night. The whole southland, the border country and, in fact the entire nation will be in his audience, via the radio.

The Louisville speech is to be preceded by a two-day tour of the country in back—Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. All are normally Democratic States.

Virginia and North Carolina have never given their electoral votes to a Republican Presidential candidate. Tennessee strayed off the reservation once, in 1920, when Harding carried it by a narrow margin. Because of conditions peculiar to this year, the Democratic strategists want the Governor to exhibit himself to the voters of these states and the Governor has somewhat reluctantly consented.

Governor Smith will leave New York tomorrow night in the same eleven car special train that hauled him six thousand miles through the middle and North West.

SAFE ROBBERS USED NITRO IN LOCAL ROBBERY

MARSHAL PAUL GRIMES IN INVESTIGATION FINDS SOAP ON CEILING OF MEAT SHOP—LOSS STILL UNDETERMINED

Robbers who "cracked" the safe at the C. T. Vancleave & Son meat market in south Greencastle early Monday morning, used nitro-glycerine it was learned late in the day Monday by City Marshal Paul Grimes who found soap on the ceiling of the meat shop.

At first it appeared that the robbers had used dynamite to blow the front door of the safe open. It appeared that a crowbar and other tools stolen from the Pennsylvania Railroad tool shed nearby, had been used to pry an opening in the bottom of the safe for the insertion of crumbled dynamite. An odor similar to dynamite also pervaded the room when the robbery was discovered Monday morning.

Local investigators at first believed the white spattering on the ceiling was asbestos packing from between the walls of the safe. Later in the day when Marshal Grimes climbed to the ceiling he found that the spatters were soap.

Soap is used by professional safe-crackers to seal all openings before nitro-glycerine, a powerful explosive liquid, is poured into a safe.

The loss from the robbery was still undetermined Tuesday. It was believed that very little cash was secured in the robbery. Most of the loss resulted from the damaged safe, meat slicer and destroyed account slips. Checks were lost in the robbery.

Finding that the robbers used nitro glycerine instead of dynamite tends to make local officers believe that professional safe crackers "pulled" the robbery. Nitro-glycerine not only would be difficult for an amateur to secure but he would be at a loss as to how to handle the powerful explosive.

CARDINALS STAKED ALL ON GAME TODAY

NEW YORK YANKEES HAVE WON THREE SUCCESSIVE GAMES IN AS MANY STARTS

ST. LOUIS IS DESPERATE

Ball Fans Of Missouri Town Refused To Be Beaten—Ruth And Gehrig Heavy Hitters

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The New York Yanks apparently cinched the world series here today when they scored 4 runs in the first of the seventh inning to take a 5-to-2 lead over the St. Louis Cardinals. Home runs by Ruth and Gehrig in succession and additional runs by Muesel and Lazzeri put the Yanks in the lead. Alexander was sent in to relieve the heart broken Sherdel in this inning.

Neither side scored in the first and second innings. In the third the Cards scored when Orsatti came in on a sacrifice fly. The mighty Babe Ruth evened the count in the first of the third, however, when he slammed out a home run which traveled out of sight. The Cards came back in their half of the third again and made another run on a wild throw by Hoyt. Maranville was on second when Hoyt tried to knock him off the base. No Yankee player was present and Maranville succeeded in reaching home when the ball traveled into center field.

Both the fifth and seventh innings went scoreless although the Yanks ended the fifth with three men on bases. In the sixth again the Yanks had a man on third and first when the inning ended. Sherdel got a lot of support from the Cardinal players, being in the hole several times.

Ideal baseball weather prevailed in St. Louis. Fans shed their coats in a temperature of 75 to 80 degrees. A crowd of 40,000 was present.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9.—Playing out their string, like the inevitable gambler who is down to his ultimate chip, the St. Louis Cardinals will stake their all on the turn of the wheel this afternoon in the fourth game of the world series. Three times, the wheel has turned to the black markers but the Cards' bets were riding on the red. Three times have the New York Yankees raked in the pot. One more today and the Cards will be cleaned out and the series no longer a contest, if, indeed, it ever was. Only twice before in world series history has a club won four consecutive games and, if the Yankees win today, they will show just how silly the competition has become. They will have won successive world's series in successive games.

Two men, Ruth and Gehrig, have made this situation possible by their hitting; no other man on the ball club barring the pitchers, has contributed much more than his official presence. Yet the Yanks, as a club, have out-classed the Cardinals and it is probable that they have done so because their conviction is that they will win. The Cards apparently are just as thoroughly convinced that they will lose and, in the course of time, it seems possible that this notion will be sustained.

The populace, however, it not altogether open to suggestion on this point. It is hoping to the last that a miracle will be achieved and that the Cards, getting away with a belated victory this afternoon, will start winning and forget to stop. They die very hard in this town and only when absolutely necessary. The Cards may (Please Turn to Page 3)

Owen Moore and Helene Costello

Coming in "Husbands for Rent"

'Tis a rocky road indeed that Owen Moore and Helene Costello travel in "Husbands for Rent," the Warner Bros. production which comes to the Granada theatre Wednesday for a run of two days. A rock road and an uproarious one! It's Helene, as Molly Devoe, who plays hob with the plan of the rich old uncle that Herbert, his nephew, and Doris, his ward, shall wed. Then to add to the confusion, Doris falls in love—with Hugh Frazier. On the eve of the double wedding Molly and Hugh elope, and to save the ridicule of society Herbert and Doris marry, each believing that the other expects an "in name only" marriage. What happens when the disillusioned elopers come back must be seen to be appreciated. Enough to say that "Husbands for Rent" is hailed as the funniest farce of the year. Besides the featured players, the cast includes many well known actors. Graham Baker adapted the Edwin Justin Mayer story.

THE VONCASTLE

"The Scarlet Dove" Is Romance of Russia

Coming to the Voncastle Theatre Wednesday is "The Scarlet Dove," a romance of Russia in the old days of royalty and gold braid, of clanking swords and smoking pistols. As written by its director, Arthur Gregor, the story tells of Anna Andrevna, an innocent young girl whose riches make her a desirable bride in the eyes of Ivan Petroff, Colonel in the Czar's army.

While he is finishing bachelorhood with a New Year's eve orgy, at which he vows eternal fidelity to his mistress, despite his forthcoming marriage, little Anna is learning the meaning of true love from Lieut. Alex Orloff. Her love makes even more hideous her sacrifice but there is no way out for her, and Petroff leads her to the altar with unhappy tears in her eyes. But that night she flees from her husband and is picked up in the snow, unconscious, by Orloff, who hides her away in his hunting lodge in the mountains where they are blissfully happy until evidence points to Orloff as the murderer of Petroff's wife.

How permanent happiness comes to these two, who were willing to sacrifice money, position and even give up their country for their love, is told in "The Scarlet Dove," which is enacted by an all-star cast including Lowell Sherman, Margaret Livingston, Robert Frazer, Josephine Borio, Shirley Palmer, Julia Swayne Gordon and Carlos Durand.

PARTY CHANGE IS NEEDED TO AID FARMER

NEEDLESS TO ASK REPUBLICAN LEADERS TO MAKE CHANGE IN POLICIES OF NATION—PROSPEROUS FARMER IS BEST MARKET FOR MANUFACTURER

ROCKVILLE, Oct. 9.—Carrying his campaign into this territory, Albert Stump, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, declared here today that the country had been too long beguiled by the argument that the best market of the farmer is in a prosperous industry and urged a recasting of economic politics on "the more accurate theory that the best market for the manufacturer is in a prosperous farmer."

"For more than fifty years," Mr. Stump said, "the Democratic platform have breathed a prophecy of the very condition of prostrate agriculture and unemployment that is now upon us. The policies of government should be made with the conscious purpose of stimulating agriculture. The very policies which stimulate industry became a burden on the farmers."

The farmer bears too much of the burden to taxation. There is no section of this state in which farms can not be purchased for less than the amount for which they are assessed for taxation. Freight rate structures are built with the design of stimulating the interests of industrial areas, and burden of making the transportation facilities yield a reasonable return on their investment falls upon agricultural areas. Look into the tariff structure. The design and intent of it was to stimulate industry and that has been carried to the point where none can defend the effects of it upon agriculture. Ninety per cents of the rural homes do not have modern improvements. It is not because the farmers and their wives would not enjoy modern homes, but because they do not have money to afford such homes. Give the farmer more money and he will express his better financial condition by the improvement of the conditions of life surrounding him.

"When some thirty million farm people begin to improve the conditions of their lives by the purchase of equipment to take the burdens from human shoulders and place them upon mechanical devices, the makers of gasoline motors will be eager to employ men skilled in producing such commodities, while those who are manufacturing electric motors will vie with them for services of the same skilled labor in the competition to meet the demands of that market. Employment will be plentiful just as it was during the war. The laborer, too, being steadily employed, will improve the standards of his living and a further stimulation to industry will come in his good fortune. Industry itself, now staggering for the lack of its best market, will be vitalized into new activity."

"Too long we have been beguiled by the specious argument that the best market of the farmer is in a prosperous industry. Let us recast our economic policies on the more accurate theory that the best market for the manufacturer is in a prosperous farmer. A shortsighted policy of selfishness on the part of industries in control of government will bring about the collapse of industry itself if it is not changed. You have within your own hands the possibility of making that change in the policies of this great nation. The policies of government will never be corrected unless you yourselves assume the responsibility for that task. A change in political parties is necessary to bring that desired result. Republicans themselves are eager for that change in policies, but it is futile to expect that those in control of the Republican party will in any way revise that program as long as their present party organization remains in power."

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1928, by Hoyie, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 2

One of my correspondents has asked for more light on the difficult question of denials of partner's suit bids. As a general rule, deny partner's suit if you have one, two or none of the suit. This rule, of course, should be qualified in two respects: First, that second hand has passed. If second hand has bid, you can deny partner's suit by passing, so there is no necessity for a take-out. Second, the hand should contain at least a trick or trick and a half to justify a take-out in denial of partner's suit bid.

For example: Dealer bids one heart and second hand passes. What would you do with the following hands?

Hand No. 1	Hand No. 2	Hand No. 3
Hearts—7 Clubs—A, J, 7, 2 Diamonds—J, 7, 4, 3 Spades—Q, 7, 6, 2	Hearts—5, 2 Clubs—Q, J, 10, 5, 3 Diamonds—J, 5 Spades—K, 7, 3, 2	Hearts—6 Clubs—J, 7, 6, 3, 2 Diamonds—10, 7, 5, 3 Spades—J, 7, 5

With Hand No. 1, you should bid one to trump. The bid of one no trump over a major suit acts as a denial of the suit and should be so understood by partner.

With Hand No. 2, you should bid two clubs. The bid of a minor suit over a major suit acts as a denial of the suit. In this hand you have the possibility of three tricks in clubs and a half trick in spades; therefore the denial is sound.

With Hand No. 3, you should pass. There is not a semblance of a trick in the hand, and to bid under such conditions, even in the laudable desire to warn partner, will only get you into trouble. Your partner is very apt to infer tricks in your hand and he is justified in doing so. If they aren't there and he goes on with his bid, any loss that results is your fault, not his.

Therefore, when you hold one, two or none of your partner's suit, don't hesitate to deny his bid provided you have at least a trick in your hand; but with any less strength, pass and hope for the best.

In the preceding article two test hands were given as problems for consideration.

HICKMAN ATTORNEY IS REBUFFED

EFFORTS TO OBTAIN APPEAL FOR WILLIAM EDWARD HICKMAN, SENTENCED TO HANG OCTOBER 19, FAIL IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(INS)—All hope of saving William Edward Hickman, sentenced to die October 19 for the murder of Marian Parker in Los Angeles, was abandoned today by his attorney, Jerome K. Walsh, Kansas City.

After five justices of the Supreme court had refused to entertain a petition for an appeal on behalf of Hickman, Walsh announced he would not seek further relief from the court, but would go to California and appeal to the Governor for executive clemency.

Three justices turned down Walsh's request yesterday, and two more today, Justices Butler and Holmes, refused the appeal, designed to delay Hickman's execution.

Walsh will leave for Kansas City this afternoon and later proceed to California. He declared he would telegraph the Governor for a hearing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Facing an apparently hopeless task, Jerome K. Walsh, attorney, received another rebuff today in his efforts to win a stay of execution for William Edward Hickman.

Like three other justices before him, Justice Pierce Butler of the Supreme court today refused an appeal by Walsh on behalf of Hickman, sentenced to die on October 19 for the murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker of Los Angeles.

Realizing that there appeared but slight possibility of success, Walsh indicated he would appeal to one more member of the court, which would constitute a majority of the membership, and, if unsuccessful, might abandon further efforts before the Supreme Court to prolong Hickman's life.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal. Oct. 9.—William Edward Hickman breakfasted today on the news that the gallows awaits him ten days hence.

At his elbow, while he relished a hearty 7 a. m. meal, lay a Holy bible, neatly bound in leather; nearby, on a round prison table stood a neat stack of "fan" mail, and in a corner of the cell supported by a box, was a portable phonograph holding a record ready to play—Jazz!

Unperturbed, the "Fox" heard his doom sealed by the Supreme Court late yesterday with the stoic query: "Have my attorneys been notified yet?" still hopeful, perhaps, that a final loophole will check his march up those thirteen grim stairs that lead to San Quentin's scaffold.

NEGRO PRISON INMATE HANGS SELF IN CELL

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 9.—(INS)—With the holding of an inquest at the state prison by Coroner Charles Mayfield here today it was learned that John Ridley, 36, a negro serving a life sentence for killing a woman in Indianapolis in 1925, had hanged himself in his cell last Saturday.

The prison authorities did not reveal the suicide until today.

Ridley's home was in Shelby County but the body will be shipped to the home of his mother at Florence, Alabama.

The suicide occurred while all the prisoners were attending the regular Saturday afternoon ball game. Ridley claimed he was ill and was locked in his cell. He took a bed sheet tied it to the bars of the door and hanged himself.

ADAMS WILL SPEAK HERE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 9.—(INS)—A strenuous oratorical schedule was announced for Thomas H. Adams, former crusading publisher, by Republican State headquarters here today.

Adams, who is back in the "regular" party ranks after a lengthy rebellion, will speak as follows:

Oct. 11, Bloomfield; Oct. 12, Worthington; Oct. 13, Muncie; Oct. 16, Richmond and Nov. 1, Greencastle.

Continuation B

lose but you never beat a St. Louis ball fan.

It might seem that such devotion to a losing cause must be rewarded some time and perhaps that time will come before night-fall. They were going to pitch Willie Sherdel, who can still the Yankee war clubs but can't beat the Yankee team. But here again the good, old law of averages will be working for the Cards. If it didn't seem plausible that the Yanks could win eight straight ball games from successive National League champions, neither did it seem possible that a pitcher like Sherdel is to continue taking it on the countenance from one ball club indefinitely.

Sherdel should be absolutely correct, or right if you prefer, for this emergency, since yesterday's postponement granted him the boon of an extra day of rest. However, that situation is cut down the middle by the fact that Waite Hoyt, probable nominee for the other guys, has had as much rest and is the kind of an egg who never needed a lot of it.

MINISTER THREATENED

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Police today were searching for the writer of a letter which threatened a prominent Indianapolis minister with death.

Rev. William F. Russell, pastor of the Fletcher Place Methodist Church, reported to police that the following note was shoved under the front door of his home:

"Beware. You may be killed tonight."

The pastor found the note when he investigated a noise which he heard at the front of the parsonage.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher came to Indianapolis five years ago from Linton, Ind. He said he knew of no enemies.

DIRIGIBLE READY FOR OCEAN TRIP

ONLY BAD WEATHER WILL DELAY DEPARTURE OF GIANT GERMAN SUPER DIRIGIBLE GRAF ZEPPELIN WEDNESDAY—MAY PROLONG CRUISE OVER WEST INDIES

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Reports of bad weather over the Atlantic led to the expectation today that the departure of the German super-dirigible Graf (Count) Zeppelin would be postponed until Thursday. It was announced, however, that there would be no official decision until 6 o'clock this afternoon. The original date of sailing was tomorrow.

Experts who have gone over the airship since the trial flight yesterday pronounced it in readiness for the long journey to the United States. The motors have proved their worthiness and the aeronautical authorities are satisfied that the new "blue gas" will prove a most satisfactory fuel.

Dr. Schreiber, Prussian Secretary of Commerce, who was a passenger on the trial journey, was delighted with his experience. There were a number of other notables on board. All were charmed by the ease with which the dirigible traveled and the comforts of the trip.

It is possible that, after reaching Lakehurst, N. J., Dr. Eckner may take the Zeppelin for a cruise over Cuba and the West Indies. This belief is based upon the fact that he advised some of his friends among the passengers to take "summer clothing" with them. This indicated that the cruise may be extended from the United States into a southern zone over the Caribbean.

BIG PARADE IS FEATURE OF LEGION MEET

SOME 25,000 VETERANS FROM EVERY NOOK OF NATION ARE GATHERED FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION—MEN OF PROMINENCE IN REVIEWING STAND

By T. J. O'CONNELL

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 9.—San Antonio, blasé enough in things military, today awaited with expectancy its "big parade." Accustomed for decades to brilliant military reviews, the citizens of this army-post city never waxed enthusiastic over a new review or another parade. Today, however the citizens of the Alamo City were primed to see one of the most colorful military spectacles it has ever been privileged to see as some 25,000 members of the American Legion began mustering early this morning for its annual parade.

Every station in the Union and the District of Columbia had its quota of war veterans in line. So, too, did the territories and several foreign countries even were represented by Legion posts. In gala and resplendent uniforms the men "who won the war" were marshalling under cloudless south Texas skies 'ere the first notes of "first call" sounded at the regular army post at Fort Houston had died on the morning air.

Approximately sixty Legion bands and five and drum and bugle corps will enliven the line of march with martial airs. Almost every state has its quota of music making organizations, many of whom are strong contenders for the national championships offered by the Legion every year.

In the main reviewing stand on Alamo Plaza a stones' throw from the historic Alamo where David Crockett, James Bowie, Lieutenant Travis and other heroes of Texas died to the last man in defense of Texas liberty were the distinguished guests of the Legion tenth annual national convention. Included among these were General John J. Pershing who commanded the American expeditionary forces overseas; Major General Paul B. Malone of Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Major General Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago; Field Marshal Allenby, British war hero; Major Georges Scapini, blind veteran of the French army; Governor Dan Moody, Mayor C. M. Chabbers, Nat Washer, General convention chairman, and Secretary of War, Dwight Davis.

Mrs. McWhirter Addresses W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Felix McWhirter of Indianapolis, gave an interesting and thrilling address to the members and friends of the W. C. T. U. Monday afternoon.

Never before in the history of our local Union, has the cause which we represent, seemed of such vital importance as it did on Monday afternoon, as we listened to Mrs. McWhirter's able presentation of the old, old subject of temperance and its solution into the prohibition amendment.

Much sentiment is attached to Mrs. McWhirter's short visit with us, for she is a Greencastle product. Mrs. Frank Donner in her beautiful introductory remarks, voiced the pride with which we as a community, have followed her progress in the stand she has taken for temperance and woman suffrage, until she has made her influence felt, not only over the state, but in National and international affairs as well.

Mrs. McWhirter attended the first meeting of the W. C. T. U. ever held in Greencastle. This meeting was presided over by Mrs. Alpheus Birch. Her interest was aroused in the cause then and she subscribed for the paper and has ever since kept herself informed on the subject.

She spoke of the work of Dr. and Mrs. John and Rev. A. T. Riley in the interest of local option, and paid the women of Greencastle the great compliment of saying they are the highest type of any she has ever met, intellectually and spiritually.

Mrs. McWhirter has never been a party woman, but always a prohibitionist, and believes that the government could and should enforce it's laws.

Never before in the history of the country has there been an instance of a candidate for the presidency repudiating the platform of his party, she said, and this of course has made many Democrats feel that they have no party.

Before going to the meeting about twenty of Mrs. McWhirter's old friends met her at Mrs. Anderson's Tea room and enjoyed with her and her daughter, Mrs. Henry Ostrom, an excellent luncheon.—Contributed.

THREE DRUNKEN DRIVERS GET STIFF SENTENCES

NEWCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 8.—Gordon Chard, son of a local manufacturer, found guilty of driving while intoxicated by a jury last week, was fined $250 and costs, sentenced to the penal farm for ninety days and his driving privilege revoked for a period of one year by Judge J. R. Hinshaw today.

Claude Evans, local insurance man, found guilty of a similar charge, was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to thirty days on the farm and his license revoked for four months.

Edward Grace, who pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to sixty days on the farm and his license was revoked for six months.

WILLIAM RAGSDALE OF LADOGA EXPIRES FROM HEART ATTACK

LADOGA, Oct. 8.—William Edward Ragsdale, 50, of this place, died suddenly in a local place of business at 9:30 Saturday night. Death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Ragsdale had been apparently in the best of health. He had been laughing and joking with a number of friends during the evening and had been discussing the present world's series baseball games just previous to his death.

His death was so sudden that it came as a distinct shock to his many friends both here and in the other parts of the county.

The deceased was a son of William and Josephine Ragsdale. He was born on a farm near Roachdale on March 5, 1878. His marriage to Emma W. Weitzel, of Lebanon took place on June 27, 1902. No children were born to the union. Since his marriage he had lived in Ladoga.

The survivors are the widow, a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Scaggs, of Crawfordsville and a brother, Harry Ragsdale.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. H. W. Steen of Dayton, former pastor of the Ladoga church, will have charge of the services. Burial will be made in the Roachdale cemetery.

LAWRENCE COUNTY MAN BURNS TO DEATH IN HOME

BEDFORD, Ind., Oct. 8.—David S. Sears, 65 years old, prominent farmer of six miles east of here, was burned to death this morning when his home was destroyed by fire.

The origin of the fire and his presence in the house are a mystery for he had told his wife when she left to go to their son's home a quarter of a mile distant that he was going hunting.

Mrs. William Sherrill, a neighbor, saw the fire and ran to the burning house. Getting no response to her cries she ran to the son's home.

A search revealed Sears' body across the foot of the bed, burned beyond recognition.

He moved several years ago from Monroe county, having lived several miles west of Harrodsburg prior to that time. He is survived by the widow and eight children.

Coroner O. D. Emerson returned a verdict of accidental death.

DEMPSEY AT CROSSROADS OF HIS CAREER

FORMER HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION EXPECTS TO LAST ABOUT A YEAR LONGER ON STAGE—DOESN'T KNOW WHAT FUTURE PLANS WILL BE—UNTRAINED FOR BUSINESS

Editors Note—This is the first of three human interest stories based on an interview with Jack Dempsey: By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Jack Dempsey revealed in an exclusive interview today that he expects to be at the "cross roads" of his clamorous career in just about a year. He will have $1,000,000 or more but no job and he recoils at the idea of being an unemployed millionaire.

He will be 34 years old in another year, perhaps an actor no longer and he will be through forever with the ring. He will be seriously asking himself the question:

"What will I do?"
He will have wealth, robust health, fame no doubt, friends galore and a loyal and talented wife but he will be like a fish out of water. Money isn't everything with Jack. He will be eager and restless to do something worth while but, as he rather plaintively explained today, he will find himself untrained for business and unfitted for a professional career.

"I will be starting all over again, a graduate of the college of hard knocks, and ambitious to succeed in some worth while line of endeavor," said the former heavy-weight champion of the world. "What I will do I frankly don't know but I'm giving it plenty of thought. I'm going to try hard and I think I'll make good."

Dempsey figures he has just about a year to go as an actor. Part of the time in the play in which he is starring on Broadway, and the rest making a "talkie" or two. Products are after both Dempsey and his wife, the dark-eyed, attractive Estelle Taylor, to do a talking motion picture or two. After that, Dempsey wonders—what?

The affable and unassuming ex-champion not only frankly discussed his uncertain future but chatted entertainingly about his past. Among other things he said:

1.—That Tex Rickard is the "outstanding personality" he has ever met.

2.—That the "biggest thrill" of his sensational career to him was when he knocked out Jess Willard, in Toledo, O., on July 4, and won the championship.

3.—That big, hairy-chested Louis Firpo of the Argentine came nearer to knocking him out than any other man.

4.—That he likes the public.

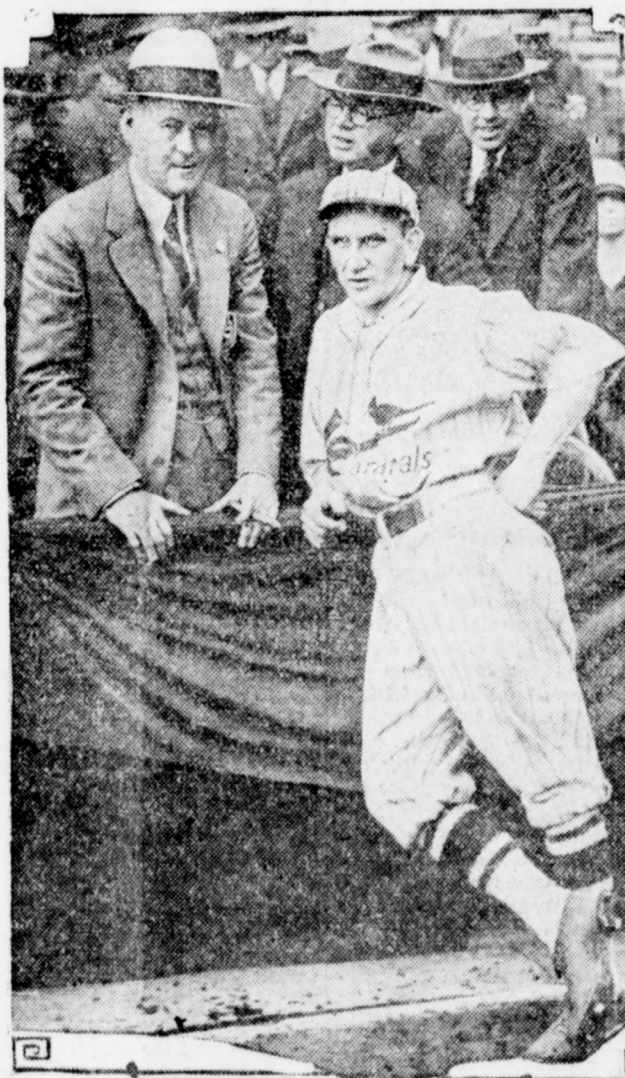

5.—That he feels perfectly at home with prize fighters, actors and newspapermen.

6.—That exercise is his hobby.

7.—That football is his favorite sport.

The writer met Dempsey in front of the Savory Plaza Hotel as he was hailing a taxi. "Hop in," said Jack, and, after parking his feet on the seat ahead, said: "Shoot!"

"How do you like being an actor?" he was asked.

"I rather like it—it isn't bad. I'm in there trying."

"The critics say you're good."

"Not all of them," smiled Jack.

"Are you going to make acting your life vocation—planning to be a second James J. Corbett?"

"No, I'm afraid I'll never be as good an actor as Jim Corbett," replied Dempsey. "Still I don't think I'm hopeless or anything like that. And I'm learning. Some parts of my show I play very natural. I feel at home chatting in the Times Square barber shop in the first act I'm really myself when I strip to tights and climb through the ropes in the last act. But in act two they make me sit there like a dumb-bell and listen to my manager and a gambler talk about me throwing a fight. It wouldn't be natural for me to sit there so dumb. I'd get the idea quicker. And instead of doing what I do in the show I'd get up and sock somebody on the button. When I act I like to act natural. I've just got to be myself, even on the stage."

It was at this juncture that Dempsey said he believed he had about a year to go as an actor and that he would then be at the cross roads of his career.

(Later—Dempsey lists the five best heavyweights in the ring today and tells of the three greatest personalities he has met in his spectacular career.)

POLICE SEEK SLAYER FORT WAYNE WOMAN

ALL RESOURCES OF POLICE DEPARTMENT SEEK SOLUTION OF MURDER OF MRS. MARION DURBIN 30, FOUND DEAD IN APARTMENT WITH HEAD CRUSHED

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 9.—(INS)—All the resources of the Fort Wayne police department were being used today to unravel the mystery surrounding the slaying of Mrs. Marion Durbin, 30, also known as Ruth Freeland, formerly of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Durbin's body was found by her colored maid in the luxurious downtown apartment where Mrs. Durbin lived. The top of her head had been mashed in by some blunt instrument.

The unfortunate woman's father, William Freeland, was on his way to Fort Wayne from Indianapolis by bus, ignorant that tragedy awaited him upon his arrival here to visit his daughter.

Police were unable definitely to establish the motive for the slaying. What at first appeared to be another love killing was complicated by the discovery that sums of money kept by the woman were missing and that there was bloody fingerprints on the inside of two empty pocketbooks found in the apartment. The slayer had washed his bloody hands in the bathroom.

The first effort of police in their probe of the murder was an attempt to locate companions of the slain woman who were with her to a roadhouse last Saturday.

MRS. LUCAS IS HONORED

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 8.—Although the convention proper of the Indiana Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, does not begin until 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, seventy-five members of various organizations throughout the state and a few guests from outside arrived today.

They came to attend the officers' meeting held in the Hoosier room of the Hotel Deming at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the banquet in the hall room at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. James B. Crankshaw of Fort Wayne, state regent and president of the Officers' Club, presided for the afternoon meeting and Mrs. Charles Mills of Rensselaer acted as toastmistress for the dinner.

Double honors were conferred upon one of the Fort Harrison chapter members of the D. A. R., Miss Mary Alice Warren, whose name in the state and in national organization circles is synonymous with D. A. R. First copies of the handsome program for the twenty-eighth annual conference, given out yesterday, showed that the book had been dedicated to Miss Warren.

At the meeting of the officers' club which is social in nature, Miss Warren was elected president for the coming year. Mrs. Ferd Lucas of Greencastle was chosen first vice president. Mrs. Lillian Ganiard of Lagrange, second vice president; Mrs. F. W. Troutman of Peru, recording secretary; Mrs. Horace Murphy of Muncie, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Wagoner of Knightstown treasurer.
